Lesson Study = Yusaku Kanagawa shooting spread to Mongolia [Video]

You understand? The end of the lesson, December 18, was put on the board paper round green children everyone indicates "found" = 2013. 67th School of Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia suburbs, Yusaku Kanagawa shooting

Teacher between each other learn "lesson study" is Japanese school education would be one of those things can be proud of in the world. The technique spread throughout the world, cooperation of teachers also advance with the aim of level up. But in Japan, a move to send outgoing such strengths dull.

Special Feature "2014 World Education is Japan"

■ understanding of the child, devise deepen

Japanese school education in, you can tell as a "specialty", I learn of each other teacher called "lesson study".

Teacher exposes the lesson, lesson study, discuss in the study group after class. Continued since the Meiji era in the "culture", the teacher in charge of making the lesson plans over the course of many weeks, discussed many teachers, work out by involving the whole school at. Device that you want or intensive experiments or using the material day-to-day, pull out the idea of a child naturally, deepen their understanding is included.

For example, in November last year, Aichi Prefecture Tokai lesson study of art was standing Fukushima junior high school. The study group after school, about 20 people participated, including other teachers subject. From the teacher saw the class to make a article made out of paper by hand to fall while rotating, opinions such as "I'm glad if there is a voice over to the student who can immediately" went up. Teacher in charge and answer it, the discussion was over about an hour and a half.

Such a lesson study is spread all over the world, the United States is no exception. When you visit in December Chavez Elementary School City of Chicago, which incorporates the lesson study, classroom math, fourth grade had become glued to the white board.

Rectangle problem or measure how the perimeter of. One person proposed a method for arranging the square of one centimeter side on the inside, count the number. But, not enough 4 centimeters to the length of the original and try. When I was worried, because the space in the corner requires only one square, children of another realized that was less a total of 4 cm in the four corners, was convinced everyone. Without explanation, Nathaniel Ortega's teacher had been devoted to the facilitator. Satisfaction of "arrived on their own" was floating around the classroom.

Efforts to lesson study on a regular basis, Mr. Ortega has skills through the teaching methodology of Japanese-style. I have also participated in the training Tokyogakugeidai is open every summer for teachers overseas. "Through lesson study, with questions such as deepen. Thought that line of questioning of children has changed, it is now in discussion Michibikeru"

Academic achievement of children of small Chavez was significantly improved. Burton Dashinga principal said, "eventually wants to work with all teachers in this school" he said.

Lessons from Japan's widespread in the United States, the researchers of California at Los Angeles is authored in 1999, became a bestseller called "teaching gap" is it an opportunity.

As a result of recording a math class of junior high school two years in the three countries of Japan and Germany the United States, was verified, and had derived the answer students thinking about their own class of Japan. In the U.S., class teachers teaching how to solve, to address the drill then was the mainstream in reverse.

Akihiko Takahashi, the United States DePaul large associate professor, director of Mission Professor of Tokyogakugeidai points out that "the United States was the curriculum development since the 1980s, but academic achievement did not rise. Way of teaching is because he did not change from 100 years ago," said .
